

ESIAS

Contents

ESIAS

1 The vision which Esaias the son of Amos saw, which he saw against Juda, and against Jerusalem, in the reign of Ozias, and Joatham, and Achaz, and Ezekias, who reigned over Judea. 2 Hear, O heaven, and listen, O earth: for the Lord has spoken, saying, I have begotten and reared up children, but they have 1 rebelled against me. 3 The ox knows his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Israel does not know me, and the people has not regarded me. 4 Ah sinful nation, a people full of sins, an evil seed, lawless children: you° have forsaken the Lord, and provoked the Holy One of Israel. 5 Why should you° be struck any more, transgressing more and more? the whole head is pained, and the whole heart sad. 6 From the feet to the head, there is no soundness in them; neither wound, nor bruise, nor festering ulcer are healed: it is not possible to apply a plaister, nor oil, nor bandages. 7 Your land is desolate, your cities burned with fire: your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is made desolate, overthrown by strange nations. 8

The daughter of Sion shall be deserted as a tent in a vineyard, and as a storehouse of fruits in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city. 9 2 And if the Lord of Sabaoth had not left us a seed, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been made like Gomorrha. 10 Hear the word of the Lord, you° rulers of Sodoma; attend to the law of God, you people of Gomorrha. 11 Of what value to me is the abundance of your sacrifices? says the Lord: I am full of whole burnt offerings of rams; and I delight not in the fat of lambs, and the blood of bulls and goats: 12 neither shall you° come with these to appear before me; for who has required these things at your hands? You° shall no more tread my court. 13 Though you° bring fine flour, it is vain; incense is an abomination to me; I can't bear your new moons, and your sabbaths, and the great day; 14 your fasting, and rest from work, your new moons also, and your feasts my soul hates: you° have become loathsome to me; I will no more pardon your sins. 15 When you° stretch forth your hands, I will turn away my eyes from you: and though you° make many supplications, I will not listen to you; for your hands are full of blood. 16 Wash you, be clean; remove your iniquities from your souls before my eyes; cease from your iniquities; 17 learn to do well; diligently seek judgment, deliver him that is suffering wrong, plead for the orphan, and obtain justice for the widow. 18 And come, let us reason together, says the Lord: and though your sins be as purple, I will make them white as snow; and though they be as scarlet, I will make them white as wool. 19 And if you° be willing, and listen to me, you° shall eat the good of the land: 20 but if you° be not willing, nor listen to me, a sword shall devour you: for the mouth of the Lord has spoken this. 21 How has the faithful city Sion, once full of judgment, become a harlot! wherein righteousness lodged, but now murderers. 22 Your

---

1 + 1:2 Or, 'set me at nothing.'

2 + 1:9 Rom 9. 29.

silver is worthless, your wine merchants mix the wine with water. <sup>23</sup> Your princes are rebellious, companions of thieves, loving bribes, seeking after rewards; not pleading for orphans, and not heeding the cause of widows. <sup>24</sup> Therefore thus says the Lord, the Lord of hosts, Woe to the mighty men of Israel; for my wrath shall not cease against my adversaries, and I will execute judgment on my enemies. <sup>25</sup> And I will bring my hand upon you, and purge you <sup>3</sup> completely, and I will destroy the rebellious, and will take away from you all transgressors. <sup>26</sup> And I will establish your judges as before, and your counselors as at the beginning: and afterward you shall be called the city of righteousness, the faithful mother-city of Sion. <sup>27</sup> For her captives shall be saved with judgment, and with mercy. <sup>28</sup> And the transgressors and the sinners shall be crushed together, and they that forsake the Lord shall be utterly consumed. <sup>29</sup> For they shall be ashamed of their idols, which they delighted in, and they are made ashamed of the gardens which they coveted. <sup>30</sup> For they shall be as a turpentine tree that has cast its leaves, and as a garden that has no water. <sup>31</sup> And their strength shall be as a thread of tow, and their works as sparks, and the transgressors and the sinners shall be burnt up together, and there shall be none to quench them.

2The word which came to Esaias the son of Amos concerning Judea, and concerning Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup> For in the last days the mountain of the Lord shall be <sup>4</sup> glorious, and the house of God shall be on the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall come to it. <sup>3</sup> And many nations shall go and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will tell us his way, and we will walk in it: for out of Sion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord out of Jerusalem. <sup>4</sup> And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into sickles: and nation shall not take up sword against nation, neither shall they learn to war any more. <sup>5</sup> And now, O house of Jacob, come, and let us walk in the light of the Lord. <sup>6</sup> For he has forsaken his people the house of Israel, because their land is filled as at the beginning with divinations, as the land of the <sup>5</sup> Philistines, and many strange children were born to them. <sup>7</sup> For their land is filled with silver and gold, and there was no number of their treasures; their land also is filled with horses, and there was no number of chariots. <sup>8</sup> And the land is filled with abominations, even the works of their hands; and they have worshipped the works which their fingers made. <sup>9</sup> And the mean man bowed down, and the great man was humbled: and I will not pardon them. <sup>10</sup> Now therefore enter you° into the rocks, and hide yourselves in the earth, for fear of the Lord, and by reason of the glory of his might, when he shall arise to strike terribly the earth. <sup>11</sup> For the eyes of the Lord are high, but man is low; and the haughtiness of men shall be brought low, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. <sup>12</sup> For the day of the Lord of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and haughty, and upon every one that is high and towering, and they shall be brought down; <sup>13</sup> and upon every cedar of Libanus, of them that are high and towering, and upon every oak of Basan, <sup>14</sup> and upon every high mountain, and upon every high hill, <sup>15</sup> and upon every high tower, and upon every high wall, <sup>16</sup> and upon every ship of the sea, and upon every display of fine ships. <sup>17</sup> And every man shall be brought low, and the pride of men shall fall: and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. <sup>18</sup> And they shall hide all idols made with hands, <sup>19</sup> having carried them into the caves, and into the clefts of the rocks, and into the caverns of the earth, for fear of the Lord, and <sup>6</sup> by reason of the glory of his might, when he shall arise to strike terribly the earth. <sup>20</sup> For in that day a man shall cast forth his silver and gold abominations, which they made in order to worship vanities and bats; <sup>21</sup> to enter into the caverns of the solid rock, and into the clefts of the rocks, for fear of the Lord, and by reason of the glory of his might, when he shall arise to strike terribly the earth.

<sup>3</sup>+ 1:25 Gr. to pureness.

<sup>4</sup>+ 2:2 Or, conspicuous.

<sup>5</sup>+ 2:6 Or, aliens, see Appendix which has: "ISAIAS 2. 6. — Philistines. The LXX. generally render by  $\sigma\phi\lambda\iota\sigma\tau\iota\mu$  or  $\phi\lambda\iota\sigma\tau\iota\mu$  till about the middle of Judges, after which the word almost always used is  $\alpha\lambda\lambda\phi\lambda\iota\sigma\tau\iota\mu$ . In this there was probably some accommodation of sound to tense.

<sup>3</sup>Behold now, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, will take away from Jerusalem and from Judea the mighty man and mighty woman, the strength of bread, and the strength of water, <sup>2</sup> the great and mighty man, the warrior and the judge, and the prophet, and the counsellor, and the elder, <sup>3</sup> the captain of fifty also, and the honorable counsellor, and the wise artificer, and the intelligent hearer. <sup>4</sup> And I will make youths their princes, and mockers shall have dominion over them. <sup>5</sup> And the people shall fall, man upon man, and every man upon his neighbor: the child shall insult the elder man, and the base the honorable. <sup>6</sup> For a man shall lay hold of his brother, as one of his father's household, saying, You have raiment, be you our ruler, and let my meat be under you. <sup>7</sup> And he shall answer in that day, and say, I will not be your ruler; for I have no bread in my house, nor raiment: I will not be the ruler of this people. <sup>8</sup> For Jerusalem is <sup>7</sup> ruined, and Judea has fallen, and their tongues have spoken with iniquity, disobedient as they are towards the Lord. <sup>9</sup> Therefore now their glory has been brought low, and the shame of their countenance has withstood them, and they have proclaimed their sin as Sodom, and made it manifest. <sup>10</sup> Woe to their soul, for they have devised an evil counsel against themselves, saying against themselves, Let us bind the just, for he is burdensome to us: therefore shall they eat the fruits of their works. <sup>11</sup> Woe to the transgressor! evils shall happen to him according to the works of his hands. <sup>12</sup> O my people, your exactors <sup>8</sup> strip you, and extortioners rule over you: O my people, they that pronounce you blessed lead you astray, and pervert the path of your feet. <sup>13</sup> But now the Lord will

---

<sup>6</sup> + 2:19 See ver 10.

<sup>7</sup> + 3:8 Or, forsaken, or, let go.

<sup>8</sup> + 3:12 Gr. glean you.

stand up for judgment, and will enter into judgment with his people. <sup>14</sup> The Lord himself shall enter into judgment with the elders of the people, and with their rulers: but why have you<sup>o</sup> set my vineyard on fire, and why is the spoil of the poor in your houses? <sup>15</sup> Why do you<sup>o</sup> wrong my people, and shame the face of the poor? <sup>16</sup> Thus says the Lord, Because the daughters of Sion are haughty, and have walked with an outstretched neck, and with winking of the eyes, and motion of the feet, at the same time drawing their garments in trains, and at the same time sporting with their feet: <sup>17</sup> therefore the Lord will humble the chief daughters of Sion, and the Lord will expose their form in that day; <sup>18</sup> and the Lord will take away the glory of their raiment, the curls and the fringes, and the crescents, <sup>19</sup> and the chains, and the ornaments of their faces, <sup>20</sup> and the array of glorious ornaments, and the armlets, and the bracelets, and the wreathed work, and the finger-rings, and the ornaments for the right hand, <sup>21</sup> and the ear-rings, and the garments with scarlet borders, and the garments with purple grounds, and the shawls to be worn in the house, and the Spartan transparent dresses, and those made of fine linen, and the purple ones, and the scarlet ones, and the fine linen, interwoven with gold and purple, and the light coverings for couches. <sup>22</sup> And there shall be instead of a sweet smell, dust; and instead of a girdle, you shall gird yourself with a rope; and instead of a golden ornament for the head, you shall have baldness on account of your works; and instead of a tunic with a scarlet ground, you shall gird yourself with sackcloth. <sup>23</sup> And your most beautiful son whom you love shall fall by the sword; and your mighty men shall fall by the sword, and shall be brought low. <sup>24</sup> And the <sup>9</sup> stores of your ornaments shall mourn, and you shall be left alone, and shall be levelled with the ground.

4And seven women shall take hold of one man, saying, We will eat our own bread, and wear our own raiment: only let your name be called upon us, and take away our reproach. <sup>2</sup> And in that day God shall shine gloriously in counsel on the earth, to exalt and glorify the remnant of Israel. <sup>3</sup> And it shall be, that the remnant left in Sion, and the remnant left in Jerusalem, even all that are <sup>10</sup> appointed to life in Jerusalem, shall be called holy. <sup>4</sup> For the Lord shall wash away the filth of the sons and daughters of Sion, and shall purge out the blood from the midst of them, with the spirit of judgment, and the spirit of burning. <sup>5</sup> And he shall come, and it shall be with regard to every place of mount Sion, yes, all the region round about it shall a cloud overshadow by day, and there shall be as it were the smoke and light of fire burning by night: and upon all the glory shall be a defence. <sup>6</sup> And it shall be for a shadow from the heat, and as a shelter and a hiding place from inclemency of weather and from rain.

---

<sup>9</sup> + 3:24 Gr. cases, or, repositories.

<sup>10</sup> + 4:3 Gr. written for life.

5 Now I will sing to my beloved a song of my beloved concerning my vineyard. My beloved had a vineyard on a <sup>11</sup> high hill in a fertile place. <sup>2</sup> And I made a hedge round it, and dug a trench, and planted a choice vine, and built a tower in the midst of it, and dug a place for the wine-vat in it: and I waited for it to bring forth grapes, and it brought forth thorns. <sup>3</sup> And now, you° dwellers in Jerusalem, and every man of Juda, judge between me and my vineyard. <sup>4</sup> What shall I do any more to my vineyard, that I have not done to it? Whereas I expected it to bring forth grapes, but it has brought forth thorns. <sup>5</sup> And now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away its hedge, and it shall be for a spoil; and I will pull down its walls, and it shall be left to be trodden down. <sup>6</sup> And I will forsake my vineyard; and it shall not be pruned, nor dug, and thorns shall come up upon it as on barren land; and I will command the clouds to rain no rain upon it. <sup>7</sup> For the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Israel, and <sup>12</sup> the men of Juda his beloved plant: I expected it to bring forth judgment, and it brought forth iniquity; and not righteousness, but a cry. <sup>8</sup> Woe to them that join house to house, and add field to field, that they may take away something of their neighbor's: will you° dwell alone upon the land? <sup>9</sup> For these things have reached the ears of the Lord of hosts: for though many houses should be built, many and fair houses shall be desolate, and there shall be no inhabitants in them. <sup>10</sup> For where ten yoke of oxen plow the land shall yield one, and he that sows six homers shall produce three measures. <sup>11</sup> Woe to them that rise up in the morning, and follow strong drink; who wait at it till evening: for the wine shall inflame them. <sup>12</sup> For they drink wine with harp, and lute, and drums, and pipes: but they regard not the works of the Lord, and consider not the works of his hands. <sup>13</sup> Therefore my people have been taken captive, because they know not the Lord: and there has been a multitude of dead bodies, because of hunger and of thirst for water. <sup>14</sup> Therefore <sup>13</sup> hell has enlarged its desire and opened its mouth without ceasing: and her glorious and great, and her rich and her pestilent men shall go down into it. <sup>15</sup> And the mean man shall be brought low, and the great man shall be disgraced, and the lofty eyes shall be brought low. <sup>16</sup> But the Lord of hosts shall be exalted in judgment, and the holy God shall be glorified in righteousness. <sup>17</sup> And they that were spoiled shall be fed as bulls, and lambs shall feed on the waste places of them that are taken away. <sup>18</sup> Woe to them that draw sins to them as with a long rope, and iniquities as with a thong of the heifer's yoke: <sup>19</sup> who say, Let him speedily hasten what he will do, that we may see it: and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel come, that we may know it. <sup>20</sup> Woe to them that call evil good, and good evil; who make darkness light, and light darkness; who make bitter sweet, and sweet bitter. <sup>21</sup> Woe to them that are wise in their own conceit, and knowing in their own sight. <sup>22</sup> Woe to the strong ones of you that drink wine, and the mighty ones that mingle strong

---

<sup>11</sup> + 5:1 Gr. horn, so Heb.

<sup>12</sup> + 5:7 Gr. a man.

<sup>13</sup> + 5:14 Gr. Hades.

drink: <sup>23</sup> who justify the ungodly for rewards, and take away the righteousness of the righteous. <sup>24</sup> Therefore as stubble shall be burnt by a coal of fire, and shall be consumed by a violent flame, their root shall be as chaff, and their flower shall go up as dust: for they rejected the law of the Lord of hosts, and insulted the word of the Holy One of Israel. <sup>25</sup> Therefore the Lord of hosts was greatly angered against his people, and he reached forth his hand upon them, and struck them: and the mountains were troubled, and their carcasses were as dung in the midst of the way: yet for all this his anger has not been turned away, but his hand is yet <sup>14</sup> raised. <sup>26</sup> Therefore shall he lift up a signal to the nations that are afar, and shall hiss for them from the end of the earth; and, behold, they are coming very quickly. <sup>27</sup> They shall not hunger nor be weary, neither shall they slumber nor sleep; neither shall they loose their girdles from their loins, neither shall their shoe-latchets be broken. <sup>28</sup> Whose arrows are sharp, and their bows bent; their horses' hoofs are counted as solid rock: their chariot-wheels are as a storm. <sup>29</sup> They rage as lions, and draw near as a lion's whelps: and he shall seize, and roar as a wild beast, and he shall cast them forth, and there shall be none to deliver them. <sup>30</sup> And he shall roar on account of them in that day, as the sound of the swelling sea; and they shall look to the land, and, behold, there shall be thick darkness in their perplexity.

6And it came to pass in the year in which king Ozias died, that I saw the Lord sitting on a high and exalted throne, and the house was full of his glory. <sup>2</sup> And seraphs stood round about him: each one had six wings: and with two they covered their face, and with two they covered their feet, and with two they flew. <sup>3</sup> And one cried to the other, and they said, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory. <sup>4</sup> And the lintel <sup>15</sup> shook at the voice they uttered, and the house was filled with smoke. <sup>5</sup> And I said, Woe is me, for I am pricked to the heart; for being a man, and having unclean lips, I dwell in the midst of a people having unclean lips; and I have seen with my eyes the King, the Lord of hosts. <sup>6</sup> And there was sent to me one of the seraphs, and he had in his hand a coal, which he had taken off the altar with the tongs: <sup>7</sup> and he touched my mouth, and said, Behold, this has touched your lips, and will take away your iniquities, and will purge off your sins. <sup>8</sup> And I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom <sup>16</sup> shall I send, and who will go to this people? And I said, behold, I am here, send me. And he said, Go, and say to this people, <sup>9</sup> You° shall hear indeed, but you° shall not understand; and you° shall see indeed, but you° shall not perceive. <sup>10</sup> <sup>17</sup>

For the heart of this people has become gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and be converted,

---

<sup>14</sup> + 5:25 Gr. High.

<sup>15</sup> + 6:4 Gr. was lifted.

<sup>16</sup> + 6:8 Or, should I send?

<sup>17</sup> + 6:10 Mat 13.15. Mark 4.12.

and I should heal them. <sup>11</sup> And I said, How long, O Lord? And he said, Until cities be deserted <sup>18</sup> by reason of their not being inhabited, and the houses by reason of there being no men, and the land shall be left desolate. <sup>12</sup> And after this God shall remove the men far off, and they that are left upon the land shall be multiplied. <sup>13</sup> And yet there <sup>19</sup> shall be a tenth upon it, and again it shall be for a spoil, as a turpentine tree, and as an acorn when it falls out of its husk.

7And it came to pass in the days of Achaz the son of Joatham, the son of Ozias, king of Juda, there came up Rasim king of Aram, and Phakee son of Romelias, king of Israel, against Jerusalem to war against it, but they could not <sup>20</sup> take it. <sup>2</sup> And a message was brought to the house of David, saying, Aram has conspired with Ephraim. And his soul was amazed, and the soul of his people, as in a wood a tree is moved by the wind. <sup>3</sup> And the Lord said to Esaias, Go forth to meet Achaz, you, and your son Jasub who is left, to the pool of the upper way of the fuller's field. <sup>4</sup> And you shall say to him, Take care to be quiet, and fear not, neither let your soul be disheartened because of these two smoking firebrands: for when my fierce anger is over, I will heal again. <sup>5</sup> And as for the son of Aram, and the son of Romelias, forasmuch as they have devised an evil counsel, saying, <sup>6</sup> We will go up against Judea, and having conferred with them we will turn them away to our side, and we will make the son of Tabeel king of it; <sup>7</sup> thus says the Lord of hosts, This counsel shall not abide, nor come to pass. <sup>8</sup> But the head of Aram is Damascus, and the head of Damascus, Rasim; and yet within sixty and five years the kingdom of Ephraim shall cease from being a people. <sup>9</sup> And the head of Ephraim is Somoron, and the head of Somoron the son of Romelias: but <sup>21</sup> if you° believe not, neither will you° at all understand. <sup>10</sup> And the Lord again spoke to Achaz, saying, <sup>11</sup> Ask for yourself a sign of the Lord your God, in the depth or in the height. <sup>12</sup> And Achaz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the Lord. <sup>13</sup> And he said, Hear you° now, O house of David; is it a little thing for you to contend with men? and how do you° contend against the Lord? <sup>14</sup> Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; <sup>22</sup> behold, a virgin shall conceive in the womb, and shall bring forth a son, and you shall call his name Emmanuel. <sup>15</sup> Butter and honey shall he eat, before he knows either to prefer evil or choose the good. <sup>16</sup> For before the child shall know good or evil, he refuses evil, to choose the good; and the land shall be forsaken which you are afraid of because of the two kings. <sup>17</sup> But God shall bring upon you, and upon your people, and upon the house of your father, days which have never come, from the day that Ephraim took away from Juda the king of the Assyrians. <sup>18</sup> And it shall come to pass in that day that <sup>18</sup> + 6:11 Compare use of παρά, Jer 40.(33) 10,12; also 1 Cor 12.15,16.

<sup>19</sup> + 6:13 Gr. is.

<sup>20</sup> + 7:1 Lit. besiege See Heb.

<sup>21</sup> + 7:9 Comp. Heb.

<sup>22</sup> + 7:14 Mat 1.23.